13 IN RE PETITION OF BLANCA OLIVAS
 14 RELEASE OF SEIZED 1999 VOLKSWAGEN
 15 PASSAT, CALIFORNIA LICENSE 4LIH673.

Case No.

PETITION OF BLANCA OLIVAS
 FOR RELEASE OF SEIZED VEHICLE

16 BLANCA OLIVAS,
 17 Petitioner.

18 The Petitioner, BLANCA OLIVAS, by and through her counsel, and pursuant to Title 18, United
 19 States Code, Section 983(f)(3)(A), hereby petitions this Court for the release of her 1999 Volkswagen
 20 Passat during the pendency of administrative and/or judicial forfeiture proceedings.

STATEMENT OF THE CASE

21 On August 9, 2008, petitioner's vehicle was seized from her home in Fallbrook, California. On 22 August 14, 2008, petitioner filed her Seized Asset Claim Form (see exhibit "A" attached hereto) and 23 administrative Hardship Petition with U.S. Customs and Border Protection.

24 As of the date of this filing, no response has been received from U.S. Customs and Border
 25 Protection to Mrs. Olivas' administrative petition. This petition follows.

26 STATEMENT OF THE LAW

27 On August 23, 2002, the Civil Asset Forfeiture Reform Act of 2000 (CAFRA) went into effect.
 28 One of the main elements of the statute provides for what is often referred to as a Hardship Release,

1 a provision for the release of property during the pendency of the forfeiture proceedings. The 'release'
 2 provisions are found in Title 18, United States Code, Section 983(f), which provides as follows:

3 (f) RELEASE OF SEIZED PROPERTY

4 (1) A claimant under subsection (a) is entitled to immediate release of seized property
 if -

5 (A) the claimant has a possessory interest in the property;

6 (B) the claimant has sufficient ties to the community to provide assurance that
 7 the property will be available at the time of the trial;

8 (C) the continued possession by the Government pending the final disposition
 9 of forfeiture proceedings will cause substantial hardship to the claimant, such as preventing the functioning of a business, preventing an individual from working, or leaving an individual homeless;

10 (D) the claimant's likely hardship from the continued possession by the 11 Government of the seized property outweighs the risk that the property will be destroyed, damaged, lost, concealed, or transferred if it is returned to the claimant during the pendency of 12 the proceeding; and

13 (E) none of the conditions set forth in paragraph (8) applies.

14 In her petition to U.S. Customs and Border Protection, Mrs. Olivas met all of the above
 15 requirements. She set forth and documented she is the registered owner of the vehicle. [18 U.S.C. §
 16 981(f)(1)(A)] (See Exhibit "B"). She further established her community ties by explaining she is a
 17 United States citizen and has been a resident of San Diego County all her life. [18 U.S.C. §
 18 981(f)(1)(B)]. She also explained the continued possession by the government pending final disposition
 19 of forfeiture proceedings will cause substantial hardship to her for the following reasons. She lives in 20 Oceanside, California but works at American Rim Supply in Carlsbad, California. It would take 21 approximately one and a half to two hours for her to travel by bus each way to and from work. In 22 connection to her work she needs to drive to the sister facility in Vista, California, which she is 23 obviously not able to do without her vehicle. Additionally, she picks up her nephew twice a week at 24 daycare in Carlsbad which she is also unable to do. Finally, she just had cancer surgery on March 16,
 25 2008, for thyroid cancer. She is a recovering patient and needs aftercare treatment following her
 26 radiation treatment that she received in connection with her treatment. In addition, she needs her vehicle
 27 for the normal necessities of life such as going to medical appointments, the grocery store, etc. [18
 28 U.S.C. § 981(f)(1)(C)]. Finally, she demonstrated that likely hardship from the continued possession

1 by the Government of the vehicle outweighs the risk the vehicle will be destroyed, damaged, lost or
2 transferred if it is returned to her during the pendency of the proceedings. Insurance has always been
3 maintained on the vehicle and will continue to be maintained should the vehicle be released. (See
4 Exhibit "B" attached) . [18 U.S.C. § 981(f)(1)(D)]. Nevertheless, U.S. Customs and Border Protection
5 has failed to even respond to her Petition.

6 In spite of Mrs. Olivas clearly demonstrated hardship arising from the seizure of the vehicle, U.S.
7 Customs and Border Protection has failed to release the vehicle. Congress has provided a remedy for 8 such inaction. Title 18, United States Code, Section 983(f)(3)(A) provides:

9 If not later than 15 days after the date of a request under paragraph (2) the property has 10 not been released, the claimant may file a petition in the district court in which the complaint has been filed or, if no complaint has been filed, in the district court in which the seizure warrant was issued or in the district court for the district in which the property 11 was seized.

12 18 U.S.C. Section 983(f)(5) further provides:

13 The court shall render a decision on a petition filed under paragraph (3) not later than 30 days after the date of the filing, unless such 30-day limitation is extended by consent of 14 the parties or by the court for good cause shown.

15 18 U.S.C. Section (f)(6) goes on to require the following:

16 If -

17 (A) a petition is filed under paragraph (3); and

18 (B) the claimant demonstrates that the requirements of paragraph (1) have been met, the district court shall order that the property be returned to the claimant, pending completion of 19 proceedings by the Government to obtain forfeiture of the property. (emphasis added).

20 Mrs. Olivas has met all of the above requirements. She has filed the petition under 18 U.S.C.
21 Sections 983(f)(1) and (2), she had demonstrated that the requirements of paragraph (f)(1) have been 22 met. Under these circumstances the statute calls for the court ordered release of the vehicle to her during 23 the pendency of the forfeiture proceedings.

24 If the court grants this petition, the court may enter any order necessary to ensure that the value
25 of the property is maintained while the forfeiture action is pending, including (1) permitting the 26 inspection, photographing, and inventory of the property; (2) fixing a bond in accordance with Rule E(5)
27 of the Supplemental Rules for Certain Admiralty and Maritime Claims; and (3) requiring the claimant
28 to obtain or maintain insurance on the subject property. While it is petitioner's contention no bond is

1 necessary in this case, she has no objection to permitting the inspection, photographing and inventory
2 of the vehicle, nor requiring him to continue maintain insurance on the vehicle.

CONCLUSION

Mrs. Olivas needs her vehicle so she can drive to, and use her vehicle at work, doctor appointments, and the ordinary necessities of life. The U.S. Customs and Border Protection refusal to even rule on her administrative Hardship Petition flies in the face of the intention of the statute, which was to provide redress for those with hardships. She has clearly demonstrated a need for the return of the vehicle.

9 For the foregoing reasons, it is respectfully submitted this court should order the release of Mrs.
10 Olivas' vehicle to her during the pendency of administrative and/or judicial forfeiture proceedings.
